

Spigou

Tuesday, 26 February 2008

SPIGOU. An underground agent working in the People's Republic of Borovia during the Cold War. When a group from the G.I. Joe team went on a covert rescue mission into Borovia, Spigou was their contact. Stalker, Quick Kick, Snow Job and Outback had been sent to rescue a reporter named Devlin Winchell from the Borovian State Security building in the city of Krogdznz. Spigou supplied them with weapons and access to the building, as well as a truck to travel in. During the operation, it was discovered Winchell had already been released, and Borovian security police were alerted to the Joes' presence. Hoping to let the Joes escape, Spigou drove a truck directly into the Borovians' line of fire and was killed in the resulting explosion. He knew it was a suicidal tactic, but figured it was better than spending the rest of his life in the gulag.
