

H.I.S.S. II

Thursday, 28 February 2008

H.I.S.S. II. The predecessor to Cobra's first primary armored vehicle, the HISS II's design shared similarities with the original tank. It's upgraded main turret was armed with a tri-barrelled, thermal propulsion XTX-a20b cannon. It's additional armaments included two 100mm armor-piercing laser machine guns and two surface hovering, no-noise, multi-warhead "Slam" missiles. HISS II's were primarily driven by Cobra's Track-Vipers. The tanks helped take control of the small town of Millville and went on to serve in the Battle of Benzheen. Many years later, the revived Cobra organization introduced an all-new model known as the Strike HISS.

(GI 97, 100, 101, 103, 108-111, 113, 121, 130, 137, 141)