ARBCO. An anagram of "Cobra." The terrorist organization, Cobra Command, used Arbco as a name for some of its legitimate businesses that actually covered up criminal and terrorist operations. The term "Arbco" was first the name of Cobra Commander's company headquartered in Springfield. Other uses of the term included the Arbco Furniture Company in Vermont (which housed a chemical lab), Arbco Brothers Circus (a Crimson Guard base) and the Arbco Star (a sunken oil tanker that played a major role in the Cobra Island operation). The term "Broca" was also used in the same way.
