AZURE. While putting together his plans for unleashing the Death Angel virus upon the world, terrorist Tyler Wingfield met a woman named Azure. Wingfield had fled CIA agents in Cuba, but hadn't realized that Azure herself worked for the CIA as a deep cover agent. She pretended to fall in love with Wingfield and was by his side as he took over a missile base and prepared to launch rockets carrying the virus. At the last moment, as her CIA partner, Calder, and members of G.I. Joe attacked the base, Azure stabbed Wingfield and revealed her true identity. Wingfield got away, but Azure helped stall his attempt to kill millions.
